

SPORTING CHANCE

THE ODDS

AFL BROWNLOW MEDAL

$2	Nat Fyfe
$4	Matt Priddis
$6	Todd Goldstein
$9	Patrick Dangerfield
$11	Sam Mitchell
$15	Andrew Gaff
$15	Daniel Hannebery
$26	Scott Pendlebury
$21	Josh Kennedy (Syd)

GEELONG v COLLINGWOOD MARGIN

$2.20	Geelong under 39.5
$3.30	Collingwood under 39.5
$3.50	Geelong over 39.5
$12	Collingwood over 39.5
$51	Draw

HAWTHORN v BRISBANE

$2.35	Hawks 60-99
$2.35	Hawks 1-59
$4.50	Hawks 100+
$17	Brisbane win
$81	Draw

RACING EPSOM HANDICAP

$8	First Seal
$8	Kermadec
$8	Pornichet
$8	Royal Descent
$11	Contributer
$11	Sweynesse
$15	Hartnell
$15	Lucky Hussler
$15	Messene
$15	Weary
$15	Boban
$15	Catkins
$15	It's Somewhat
$15	Noble Protector

PRIDDIS CATCHING FYFE IN MEDAL

NAT Fyfe (right) has drifted from $1.70 out to $2 in Brownlow betting after news he will miss the rest of the home and away season. Last year's winner Matt Priddis

(left) looms as a massive danger and is now $4. "Even before the news punters haven't been keen on Fyfe over the last month and the only ones they have wanted to back have been Priddis and Dangerfield," TAB's Trent Langskail said. "We still think Fyfe will be far enough in front to win it, but it's getting tight."

Picture: GETTY IMAGES

Cats on the prowl

GEELONG is expected to keep its finals chances alive with a win over Collingwood at the MCG tonight.

Having won back-to-back matches against Collingwood after the Magpies had won three in a row, the Cats have also been heavily backed through multi-bets.

"The Cats have firmed from $1.45 into $1.38 and considering they have their season on the line it is easy to see why there has been so much support," TAB's Adam Hamilton said.

Collingwood is now $3.05 with the line 15.5.

NICK QUINN

Bets of note include $7500 at $1.45 on Geelong and $15,000 at $1.45.

Geelong has firmed from $4 into $3.55 to make the finals with Adelaide now $1.30.

In other key games North Melbourne continues to firm against the Western Bulldogs at Etihad Stadium tomorrow.

After $1.85 was available late last week the Roos are now $1.68 with the Bulldogs $2.20.

In the crucial Adelaide v West Coast clash at the Adelaide Oval on Sunday, the Crows are $2.40 and the Eagles $1.58.

Purple pride

ONE punter is adamant Fremantle will win the AFL flag for the first time anchoring the Dockers in two AFL/NRL premiership doubles.

"Before the weekend one punter had $6000 at $34 on Fremantle into South Sydney for a potential $204,000 collect," TAB's Trent Langskail said. "He also had $3000 on Fremantle into Melbourne Storm at $36 for a potential $108,000 collect."

GAI EYES LUCKY EIGHT

GAI Waterhouse is looking to become the first trainer to win the Epsom Handicap for an eighth time, while Chris Waller is aiming to win the race for a third straight year when TAB released an opening market yesterday.

In what shapes as a vintage edition of the race, TAB has opened four runners at $8 with the Waterhouse-trained Pornichet and Waller's

Doncaster Mile winner Kermadec sharing favouritism at $8 with First Seal and Royal Descent.

Waterhouse shares the record for most Epsom wins with her late father Tommy Smith. Her most recent winner was Fat Al in 2012.

However, Waller has won the race the past two years with Boban in 2013 and He's Your Man last year.

LUCK OF THE DRAW

Back any EPL team in the Result market during August with your TAB account or TAB Rewards card and if the game ends in a draw, we will replace your stake with a Bonus Bet up to $50 or equivalent TAB Rewards points.*

Get on at your local TAB, tab.com.au or on your mobile.

